

Katie Ammann, a senior at Cazenovia High School, has been selected as the Cazenovia Lions Club Student of the Month for December 2018. Katie is the daughter of Ann Raynor of Cazenovia and Jeffrey Ammann of Cazenovia.

Katie's nomination, by faculty member Brian Ellithorpe, reads as follows:

"Katie exemplifies the Lions Club Student of the Month. Her positive attitude, strong character, and her constant smile make her a perfect nominee and winner of this award. It is the way she treats all her classmates and teachers that separates her from others. In Physical Education, Katie took it upon herself to take a student with needs and challenges under her wing. While on our PE walk through town, this student reached for Katie's hand, and she accepted without hesitation. When choosing partners for teams, Katie automatically joins up with him. I can't think of another student more suitable for this award than Katie Ammann."

The Cazenovia Lions Club is pleased to recognize Katie for her service to her classmates, the school, and the community.
